Dear Author,

On the second page of this .pdf file, you will find an Adobe Acrobat form requesting disclosure information. For your convenience, this interactive form allows you to type your information directly into the document on the following page. Be advised that we can no longer process handwritten forms.

Please fill in the appropriate information in the spaces provided. To place a check mark in a box, simply click on that box and a check mark will appear.

We have asked the corresponding author of your paper to prepare a disclosure statement to be published with the paper. The statement will describe all of the authors' relationships with companies that make products studied or discussed in the article, companies that make related products, and other pertinent entities with an interest in the topic, specifying the type of relationship (e.g., consulting, paid speaking, grant support, equity, patents) that each author has with each company. To prepare this statement, the corresponding author will need a copy of your disclosure form. Please send a copy of the form to the corresponding author of your paper.

Because we have redesigned this form to include an authorship statement, you will still need to print the form after you have entered your information, sign the form, and fax it to our editorial office.

Please note that each author must complete and sign this form. Fax completed forms to (617) 739-9864 or (800) 210-4350.

Best wishes,

The Editorial Staff
